INDEPENDENT NATIONAL ELECTORAL COMMISSION

MANUAL FOR ELECTION OFFICIALS 2015 (Updated Version)
Training of Election Officials is not only critical, but also central to the conduct of free, fair and credible elections. It is believed that with sound training and good orientation, these officials will ensure that the conduct of elections conforms to international benchmarks that will produce transparent and acceptable outcomes. The right attitude and conduct of Election Officials are pre-requisites to the building of strong democratic institutions that will work for the benefit of all citizens. It therefore takes well-trained Election Officials to ensure that all eligible and duly registered citizens freely cast their ballots and that the results arising from such elections accurately reflect the wishes of the electorate. It goes without saying that in order to meet the expectations of the citizenry, Election Officials must not only be well trained, but also be diligent and committed to their duties. Since Election Officials are mostly seen as the face of elections, they must therefore uphold the highest ethical standards in the discharge of their functions.

This integrated Manual for Election Officials is therefore systematically packaged to help the various categories of Election personnel learn all aspects of polling, to equip them to face Election Day challenges, as well as answer questions that may arise in the process. I therefore, commend this Manual to all Election Officials, as well as other stakeholders in the electoral process and urge them to read and digest the content carefully. It is my hope that both the trainers and trainees will use the knowledge gained to engender credible elections for the consolidation of Nigeria’s democracy.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

An Election Training Manual - no matter the elegance and sophistication of its language, or the quality of its print - can only serve its purpose if it enhances the citizens’ freedom of choice at elections, rather than constitute fetters to the people’s exercise of their franchise. A good Manual for Election Officials must take cognizance of the shifting paradigms in election administration and management, by modifying the previous edition in anticipation of possible new electoral challenges that may impede the philosophy of one person, one vote. A functional training manual - no matter how perfectly and lucidly worded - will not on its own drive the electoral process, unless its users internalise its content and correctly apply the laid-down principles and procedures. Election Officials therefore, have to display utmost diligence, dexterity, dedication and commitment, in using the manual to achieve the primary purpose of conducting credible and transparent elections.

It goes without saying that, in order to achieve optimum results, the principles outlined in an Election Training Manual must draw from international best practices. The world is now a global village and all humanity are subjects; what affects one affects all. Hence there are international standards to measure whether an election has met acceptable standards or not. The Manual for Election Officials 2015 is, by all standards, an improvement on the 2014 edition in form and content. Credit must therefore, be given to institutions and persons who, in one way or the other, contributed to produce the document. The Commission is indebted to the United Nations Development Programme/Democratic Governance for Development Project II (UNDP/DGD II) as well as the International Foundation for Electoral Systems (IFES), represented by Seray Jah and Eniola Cole, for providing technical support in the production of the manual. We are, especially, grateful to the Hon. Chairman, INEC, Prof. Attahiru M. Jega, OFR and Members of Board of The Electoral Institute (TEI), for their inputs and guidance. We are also indebted to the Chairman of the Commission’s Operations Committee, Engr. (Dr) Nuru Yakubu, OON for providing the manuals’ committee with useful insights into the Guidelines for the 2015 General Elections. Mention must also be made of the Director-General of the Electoral Institute, Prof. Abubakar Momoh, for his professional guidance throughout the entire production process and for providing effective leadership to the manuals’ committee. We also appreciate the support and contribution of Dr Richard Ntui, Administrative Secretary of TEI, as well as members of the Manuals Review Team comprising:

INTRODUCTION

The “Manual for Election Officials 2015” spells out the duties of personnel involved in the conduct of elections in Nigeria. Apart from casting vote for the candidate in secret, to protect his/her choice and preference, all other aspects of the elections are conducted in the open, in line with specific procedures.

The 2015 version of the Manual is a remarkable improvement on the previous editions. With the provision of full complement of Poll Officials in all Polling Unit and Voting Points, there is a corresponding increase in the number of Election Officials. This translates to an added responsibility in the area of training. With millions of registered voters warming up for the polls, Nigerians and the international community expect much improvement on previous electoral records. This manual draws from the Revised Guidelines and the various policies and modifications introduced by the Commission, particularly on accreditation and voting procedures as well as creating Voting Points, in Polling Units with more than Seven hundred and fifty (750) registered voters. Other issues contained in the revised manual include sorting, counting and tabulation of ballots; collation and declaration of results; tips on security and conflict prevention at Polling Units as well as electoral offences and their penalties.

Perhaps, the most notable additions in the current manual are the procedures on use of the Smart Card Reader, the issue of Reverse Logistics, care for the Physically Challenged and Handling Internally Displaced Persons. Procedures on these issues were not elaborated or streamlined in the previous manuals because, as at then, there were no articulated or clear-cut Commission policies on them.

This manual is designed to assist Election Officials in understanding the election process and procedures as well as their duties and responsibilities. It would also assist other stakeholders such as Candidates, Political Party Agents, Security Operatives, Election Monitors /Observers as well as Media professionals, to understand and appreciate their roles on Election Day.

The manual will therefore, be useful in training permanent and other Election Personnel as well as guiding all relevant stakeholders in the electoral process on their expected roles and duties.

There are however exceptions in cases of Governorship positions in some states which, by reason of judicial interventions, now have different electoral cycles which may not have 29th May, 2015, as their expiry dates. 1.2 TIPS FOR POLL OFFICIALS ON BASIC SECURITY IN ELECTION DUTIES (BaSED)

i. Ensure you attend security briefings at the RAC before deployment. This will give you key information and insights about risks and threats in the area you are deployed.

ii. Before deployment, ensure that you receive the telephone number of a competent official (Security agencies or INEC) to call when in distress. You can also contact the INEC Citizen Contact Centre or the ERM Secretariat.

iii. Phone numbers of most senior security officers should be programmed into your communication device.

iv. Collect the contact of the Election Support Centers for your state.

v. Do not move unless a security escort accompanies you.

vi. Security officials on election duties are there for your protection. Maintain a cordial relationship with them. If a security official stops you be polite, present your ID if requested and obey security directives.

vii. Be security conscious at all times. It is important to know the security situation in your area and avoid areas that are identified as officially off limits, considered politically sensitive or where security incidents are known to take place.

viii. It is important for staff to be aware of their environment e.g. security points, escape points, difficult terrain etc. and culture of the community they are deployed.

ix. Maintain this awareness of and be sensitive to change. Be aware of individuals who may be acting suspiciously and report such behaviour.

x. Do not panic. Always assess situations and provide the best response. Try as much as possible to not react in a violent manner and most importantly stay away from situations that could be threatening.

xi. If you find yourself in the trunk of a car, kick the back tail lights out; stick your arm through the hole and wave.

xii. Do not hesitate to call attention to yourself if you are in danger: scream, shout, blow the horn of your vehicle.

xiii. Personal safety is an individual responsibility. The best way to be safe is to avoid trouble in the first place rather than try to remove yourself later.

xiv. Be sure to gain an understanding of the host community’s traditions and beliefs. Respect the culture and customs of the environment in which you work.

xv. Be sure to behave professionally at all times. Inspire confidence when performing your duties.

xvi. Never discuss politics or religion; these may incline people to assume bias and possible misuse of office in favour of a candidate.

xvii. Drivers should have be aware of strange objects while driving especially during convoy movement, some of these objects may be an IED or unexploded ordinance.

xviii. It is important for all drivers to know alternative routes in case there is a security threat and main roads are not available.

xix. Ensure you carry with you essential items on your trip e.g. soap, deodorant, clothing, food and money. However be sure not to carry costly items.

xx. Remember, you are responsible and accountable for your safety and security.

Section B: OPERATING THE SMART CARD READER FOR VOTER AUTHENTICATION

2.6 Voter Authentication with the Card Reader:
In order to make the polling process more transparent and credible, the Commission has introduced the use of Card Readers to enhance accreditation of voters. The Card Reader is used to verify the biometrics of the voter, thereby check-mating all forms of impersonation by voters. With the Card Reader, the INEC Voters’ Authentication System (IVAS) now becomes another innovation in the Nigerian Electoral Process.

NOTE:

a) The Card Reader is an integral part of collation at the Registration Area (RA) Level
b) The RACO shall hand over the Card Reader to the EO after collation for custody.

2.6.1 About the IVAS
The acronym IVAS means INEC Voters Authentication System. It is a device which is specially designed for the electronic authentication of voters on Polling Day. It adopts the Dual Core Cortex – A7 CPU with ARM ultra-low power consumption. It has a single core frequency of 1.2GHz and an Android 4.2.2 operating system.

IVAS supports both touch and keyboard input. It is configured to read contactless card and output same on the LCD screen. It protects data by supporting the SAM card.

The Secure Access Module (SAM) card is used to enhance the security and cryptography performance on the device. It is used commonly in devices that need to perform secure transactions, such as paying terminals. Physically a SAM can either be a SIM card and plugged into a SAM slot in a reader or a fixed integrated circuit.

Section C: VOTING PROCEDURE

NOTE:
no person shall be allowed to vote at any Polling Unit other than where he/she had registered and was accredited.

2.7 Commencement of Voting:

NOTE:
At the point of voting the:
APO I (Verification & Statistics) shall become the APO I (Overseer); APO II (Register of Voters Check & Inking) becomes APO II (Ballot Paper Issuance & Inking); and APO III (Queuing) remains APO III (Queuing).

Voting commences at 1:30 pm or whenever accreditation ends.

The Presiding Officer, after setting up the Polling Unit layout in the manner prescribed by the Commission and as illustrated in this manual, shall:

Step 1: explain the voting procedure to the voters;

NOTE:
In explaining the Voting Procedure, the Presiding Officer shall state the following in an audible, firm and polite manner:
   a) We are about to commence Voting.
   b) If you did not register at this Polling Unit and have not been accredited, you would not be allowed to vote.
   c) You will be issued with a stamped, signed and dated ballot paper. Please cross-check that the ballot paper given to you is stamped, signed and dated at the back because if any of these is mistakenly omitted, your vote would be rejected and would not count.
   d) When casting your vote, make sure that you thumb-print in only one box, that is, the box of your chosen party.
   e) A ballot paper folded vertically inward like this (demonstrate) would be given to you. Please fold it in the same manner after thumb-printing and place it in the ballot box. This is to ensure that your thumb-print does not smear on another party and render your vote invalid.
   f) Do not write or make any mark apart from your thumb-print on the ballot paper or it would be rendered invalid.
   g) Make sure that you cast your ballot paper into the appropriate ballot box after marking your ballot paper, otherwise, your vote would be rendered invalid.
   h) Priority would, again, be given to Physically Challenged persons, nursing mothers and the elderly who cannot stay long on the queue.

i) Please cooperate with us so that we can all complete this exercise in good time.

j) Let us now form a queue and remain orderly as we commence Voting.

NOTE:

a) SPOILT BALLOT PAPERS

If a ballot paper is badly torn by the Issuing Officer (APO II) when detaching it from the ballot booklet, or the ballot paper is by accident mishandled in such a manner that the ballot paper cannot be used for voting, the Issuing Officer shall write the word "Cancelled" on the front of the ballot paper and place it in envelope EC.50A. The APO II shall then issue a fresh ballot paper to the voter.

b) Accidental Destruction of Ballot Paper:

A voter who, by accident, deals with his ballot paper in such a manner that it may not be conveniently used for voting, may deliver it back to the Issuing Officer (APO II) and, if the Issuing Officer is satisfied that the ballot paper is spoilt, he shall issue another ballot paper to the voter, in place of the ballot paper delivered up (returned) and the spoilt ballot paper shall be immediately marked “Cancelled” by the Issuing Officer.

Step 2: invite all voters to form a single queue;
Step 3: separate the queue between men and women, where the culture does not allow the mingling of men and women;
Step 4: request a security agent to stand behind the last person on the queue to prevent any unaccredited person from joining the line;
Step 5: open the ballot box and display it in the full view of all persons present at the Polling Unit/Voting Point, to show that the ballot box is empty;
Step 6: lock the ballot box with the seal provided and place it in the open and most suitable position within the Polling Unit or Voting Point.

b. Only one voter at a time will be allowed in each compartment of the voting cubicle for thumb-printing the ballot paper(s).

Step 4: apply indelible ink on the cuticle of the voter’s appropriate thumb/finger nail according to the type of election:
   a) right thumb in the case Presidential and National Assembly Elections slated for the 14th February, 2015;
   b) right index finger in the case of Governorship and State Assembly Elections scheduled for the 28th February, 2015;

Step 5: request the voter to proceed to the voting cubicle to thumb-print the ballot papers in secret, in the space provided beside the logo of the party of the voter’s choice;

Step 6: advise the voter to fold the ballot papers vertically and proceed to the APO I (Overseer); and

CHAPTER FOUR

MISCELLANEOUS

SECTION A: CONFLICT PREVENTION AT THE POLLING UNIT/VOTING POINT

Conflict at Election may manifest in a number of ways. Often it occurs during registration, candidate selection process, or election campaign on Election Day at the Polling Units as well as during collation and declaration of results. In this chapter we shall concentrate on conflict at the Polling Unit.

The following tables indicate the types of conflict that may arise at the Polling Unit. The tables are intended to assist the Presiding Officer and other Election Officials to anticipate some potential conflict areas and prevent them.

Election Officials can prevent election conflict by strict adherence to the procedure as contained in this manual. Election officials should ensure that the environment at the Polling Unit remains peaceful and that election process proceeds in an orderly manner.

Attempts should be made by Poll Officials to prevent conflict degenerating into violence. Poll Officials need to be courageous in performing their duties even in difficult circumstances. Security agents should be used when necessary, and Poll Officials should avoid putting themselves in danger on Election Day(Refer to professional ethics).
